SETTLERS FROM WESTERN ONTARIO

Messrs. James Park and George H. Rodwell arrived in Edmonton Friday night. They have authority from the Dominion Government to file on homesteads, for ninety-two bona-fide settlers from the counties of Wellington and Dufferin, Western Ontario. All are practical and well-to-do farmers or farmers' sons. A large majority of the ninety-two names represent families. Messrs. Park and Rodwell have been looking over the country along the line of the Canadian Pacific railway in Assiniboia and also along the Calgary and Edmonton railway. They have not chosen any particular locality as yet and intend going east between Edmonton and Battleford. They confess to having been greatly surprised at the tremendous extent and abundant natural resources of Western Canada and look forward to the time when Western Canada will hold the balance of power in the Dominion.

A BIG BLAZE

About nine o'clock Saturday evening the alarm was given for fire and flames were seen issuing from a building belonging to C. Gallagher, near his pork packing establishment on the flats across the river. A large number of the town people followed the fire to the fire but the flames had made great headway and nothing was done to extinguish the blaze.

It was a large log building, the quarters of eight of the men who worked in the packing house. In one end of the building was a kitchen and a Chinese cook occupied quarters off the kitchen. It was thought that the fire started from the kitchen although the other end of the building burned first. Some clothing, etc., belonging to the men was burned.

GARDEN VEGETABLES IN NORTHERN ALBERTA

Several newspapers in the Western States in their efforts to belittle Western Canada have resorted to the most direct falsehoods. Among the many false statements made is that there is practically no growth in the ground until July. After reading statements like this a visit to Harold Ross's gardens is most refreshing. There we see garden vegetables of a most luxuriant growth. Green onions have been on the market for two weeks. Rhubarb plants show a growth this year of from eight to ten inches. Other garden vegetables, such as peas, carrots and cabbages are up and growing well. In this house Mr. Ross has a very large number of tomato, cabbage, cucumber and other plants which he will transplant. Mr. Ross is the father of market gardening in Edmonton.

VITAL STATISTICS

The following is the vital statistics report for the month of April, in the electoral district of Edmonton, as reported in the office of the registrar:—
Deaths ..... 14
Births ..... 32
Marriages ..... 6

A WASH OUT

A wash out on the C. P. R. a short distance east of Calgary delayed this morning's train by three hours. It is supposed that this year we will be spared a repetition of those washouts which occurred so frequently last year.

LOCAL

—Train three hours late.

—N. J. McLean left Edmonton this morning for Wetaskiwin.

—Miss Matheson has joined the staff of the Edmonton public hospital.

—Thos. Houston went to Wetaskiwin this morning on a fur purchasing trip.

—Jas. Reid, wife and children, returned to their home in Lacombe this morning.

—Taylor, Boyle & Garney will move their offices to the Garney block in the near future.

—W. J. McBride, contractor, of Victoria, B.C., is in the city with the intention of moving here.

—The Sons of England Benefit Society will hold an "At Home" in Houston's Hall to-night.

—Judge Scott returned from Wetaskiwin Saturday night. Supreme Court having been finished there.

—Mrs. Gougeon, who was called to Battleford by the death of her father, P. G. Laurie, returned to Edmonton last night.

—Jas. T. Cashman, of Ottawa, arrived in Edmonton Saturday night to take a position as assistant book-keeper in the Bulletin office.

—John Cameron has moved his real estate office to the building lately occupied by Montgomery & Company, two doors west of the Quebec hotel.

—A. Vincent, agent for the Calgary Brewing company, who has been spending the last few days with Al Brown here, returned to Calgary this morning.

—Alberta enjoyed a taste of her old weather last week. It was bright and sunny. On Saturday a light rain fell which freshened things up and has made the grass grow vigorously.

—The warm weather the last few days must have been general in the mountains as the river rose a couple of feet on Saturday. Since then it has however, dropped to its former level.

—R. Seneer, of Nelson, B.C., is in Edmonton at present having organized a branch of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International Union, known as Union No. 1, Edmonton.

—L. P. Clement, of Woodstock, Ont., who has had considerable experience in the drug business, arrived in Edmonton Saturday night with the intention of opening up in business in this locality.

—Immigrants continue to flock into the Edmonton district. Last week a large number of English and Scotch settlers arrived in town. The majority of them will go east along the route of the Canadian Northern.

—E. F. Hutchings, Winnipeg, of the Great West Sashery Company, who have shops at Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton, is spending a few days here. He arrived in Edmonton Saturday evening from Winnipeg.

—Jas. B. Twiss has been given the contract for reconstructing J. Ross's grain warehouse on Jasper avenue. The new building will have a plate glass front. There will be a restaurant in the rear and a store and office in front.

—The fire light which has been placed at the foot of the Bellamy grade near the Canadian Northern station is a great convenience. Herebefore when trains were late, people had to grope about as well as possible with the aid of lanterns. Now there is an abundance of light.

—Reports from various points on the southern part of the Calgary and Edmonton railroad tell of a heavy snow storm there Saturday night and Sunday. Although a fall of snow at this season of the year does no harm, still it is reassuring to know that no snow fell at Edmonton.

—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Storey will hear with regret of Mrs. Storey's continued illness. Mr. and Mrs. Storey are old timers in the Edmonton district, having formerly come from Picher, Ont. They lived in the Edmonton district here moving into Edmonton over a year ago.

—G. H. Porteous, city editor of the Montreal Daily Witness, arrived in Edmonton this morning. Mr. Porteous is greatly interested with the progress of the west and its prospects of future greatness. He was particularly surprised to find a town of the size and importance of Edmonton in this far West and believes that Edmonton has a brilliant future before it.

—D. L. Clark, of Trout Lake, B.C., formerly Indian agent at Hobbema, Alberta, arrived here Friday. He has a large farm near Battleford and will take down several acres of lumber and a quantity of supplies all of which he will purchase here. He will reside in future near Battleford, where his 400 acre farm is situated. His wife and family will follow him shortly from Trout Lake.

—H. W. B. Douglas has presented the Edmonton Public Hospital with a handsome cash book consisting of three hundred folios.

—The annual meeting of the Edmonton curling club will be held in the curling rink Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Officers will be elected and prizes won during the past season will be distributed. A full attendance of members is requested.

NUISANCE GROUND

The purchase of twenty-five acres near Rat Creek for a nuisance ground although long delayed, has given great satisfaction to residents near the present site of the nuisance ground. It was chosen when the town was much smaller, but lately, owing to the expansion of the town, a large number of houses have been erected or are in course of erection in its immediate neighborhood. It will be readily seen how objectionable the presence of the nuisance ground has been to nearby householders. Their petitions have been granted and the new grounds will be laid off, for the dumping of garbage and so forth.

The Building Boom

is now on and the demand for lumber is very keen. If you want to get materials on the ground in time for your building you had better order from us at once. The undecided man puts things off. He always waits until tomorrow so he can change his mind. Then he waits until the next day so he can change it back again. In the meantime, lumber gets scarce, prices go up and he becomes the lumber comb. Alberta lumber is scarce now, but we are shipping in B.C. lumber as fast as we can get it at the rate of a car a day, and we also take care of your order if you give us a chance.

FLYTIME is now here and the flies are always plentiful. Better place your orders at once for screen doors and windows. It is much easier to keep out the flies than to drive them out when they get in.

A MORE PRACTICABLE ROUTE

Last Friday evening five barges loaded with provisions, left Edmonton for the Barr colony. They floated easily and gently down the river and will arrive safely at their destination in a few days. This brings back to our mind the mistake the Barr colonists must certainly have made in attempting to go overland from Saskatoon. They took the better part of a week in making the journey from Saskatoon to Battleford, suffering greatly on this trip due largely to their inexperience. They expected to find good, hard beaten prairie trails, but found instead bogholes and mudkicks. Freight, consisting of provisions and household supplies, had to be loaded and reloaded. The swampy ground impeded their progress. Many of them, unused to driving horses, came to grief repeatedly and many others who were used to horses, but had bought oxen, became impatient and disgusted with the slowness of the oxen, and naturally felt despondent and in anything but a right condition of mind to face the difficulties of the road. Streams had to be crossed, and sharp, bluffy and hilly country had to be traversed. All this naturally makes one despondent, and the doubling oxen would grumble and complain which takes the heart out of the more cheerful. Letters will be written to the old country and they will not stop to think of the almost inevitable bad condition of roads in a new country. The people in England will, however wrongly, contrast their roads with the reported bad roads of Canada, they think of Canada, not Saskatchewan.

Had this Barr colony come to Edmonton, embarked on suitable scows, with their provisions and effects, they would have reached the site chosen for the colony in a few days. Their spirits would not have been depressed as they must certainly be now. Altogether the change would have had a very appreciable effect on the life of the colony for the first few weeks of its settlement. We do not believe that the effect of their arduous trip will long depress the colonists. Our prevalent bright, sunny weather will tend to make them forget the difficulties of their trip and they will, through time, tend to remember the hardships only as an experience. The experience is not bad to look back on, but such experiences do much to keep back intending immigrants. Dr. Robinson's English colony will soon be on the road to settle on land near the Barr Reserve. Every effort should be made to have this English colony take boat at Edmonton and float down the Saskatchewan to the site of their colony.
